

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
ROSSELLA RICCOBONO
Introduction	1
UBALDO RICCOBONO
'Isle-solitudes' and European Archaeologies in Leonardo Sciascia	17
MARINA SPUNTA
Escaping the World and Returning to the 'Province' in Claudio Piersanti's Fiction	33
ROSSELLA RICCOBONO
Pier Vittorio Tondelli between Europe and Emilia: Centre and Margins in Camere separate	55
MARGHERITA SPRIO
Migrant Translations: Matarazzo Remembered	73
ELENI PAPARGYRIOU
Centralising the Marginal, Marginalising the Central: Panos Karnezis's Prose Fiction	85
KATE ROY
Re-membering Heterogeneous Histories: How the Writing of Emine Sevgi Özdamar and Leila Sebbar Reinscribes the Other in a 'European' Past	101

CRISTINA JOHNSTON

Reshaping Identities: Marseille and the Mediterranean Onscreen 119

CLAUDIA NOCENTINI

Laura Pariani and the Value of Experience 133

RAQUEL RIBEIRO

Marginal, Nomadic and Stateless: Pessoa, Musil and Kafka
in the Works of Maria Gabriela Llansol 157

Bibliography 187

Notes on Contributors 197

Index 201